

RESOURCES HUB · DIGNITY OF RISK

Dignity of Risk

Your right to live the life you want — including taking reasonable risks. Easy Read version of DYAR's Duty of Care + Dignity of Risk Policy.

Aligned to NDIS Practice Standards · NDIS Code of Conduct · NDIS Act 2013

Version 2 · 12 May 2026

DYAR Pty Ltd

NDIS Provider No. pending (Application 4-LRFP0J8) · ABN 68 695 255 504
Unit 1, 136 Main Street, Osborne Park WA 6017 · PO Box 8052, East Subiaco WA 6008
0470 540 306 · hello@dyar.com.au · Whadjuk Country

RESOURCES HUB è'^? DIGNITY OF RISK

Dignity of Risk

Your right to live the life you want è'^? including taking reasonable risks.

Please note

This document talks about risk and choice.

If anything makes you feel worried or upset, please tell DYAR.

We can read it with you, or explain it a different way.

What is dignity of risk?

Dignity of risk means:

- You have the RIGHT to make your own choices.
- You have the RIGHT to try new things.
- You have the RIGHT to make mistakes.
- You have the RIGHT to learn and grow.
- DYAR will NOT wrap you in cotton wool.
- DYAR will NOT stop you from living a full life.

We support you. We do not control you.

Why this matters

Everyone has the right to take risks in their life.

People without disability take risks every day:

- Crossing the road.
- Trying new food.
- Riding a bike.
- Starting a new job.
- Going on a date.
- Moving out of home.

You have the same right to take these risks.

Disability does NOT change your right to choose.

Some real-life examples

Example 1 – New food

Sarah wants to try sushi for the first time.

She has never eaten raw fish before.

DYAR will NOT say "no, that's risky."

We will:

- Talk about what to expect.
- Go with her to a clean restaurant.
- Help her order something she might like.
- Be there if she doesn't enjoy it.

She gets to try it. Her choice.

Example 2 – Moving out

Mr R. wants to move out of his parents' house at 35.

His parents are worried he can't manage alone.

DYAR will:

- Talk to him about what he wants.
- Help him visit possible homes.
- Help him practise daily living skills first.
- Make sure he has emergency contacts.
- Tell his parents we support his choice.

He gets to move out. Even if his parents disagree.

Example 3 – Dating

Mr A. wants to use a dating app.

DYAR will:

- Help him understand online safety.
- Talk about consent and respect.
- Help him meet someone in a public place.
- Be available if he needs to leave a date.

We will NEVER tell him he can't date because of his disability.

Example 4 – Risky hobby

Ms B. wants to try rock climbing.

She had a stroke last year.

DYAR will:

- Help her find an adaptive climbing centre.
- Talk to her physio about safe limits.
- Help her start small and build up.
- Celebrate her courage.

We support the goal. We help her do it safely.

How DYAR supports your choices

1. We listen first

We ask what YOU want to do.

We don't decide for you.

We don't tell your family they're right and you're wrong.

2. We talk about it

We use easy words.

We show pictures or examples.

We make sure you understand.

3. We plan together

We look at what could go wrong.

We find ways to make it safer.

We agree on what to do if something goes wrong.

4. We support your choice

Even if your family disagrees.

Even if it's not what we would choose.

Even if you have failed at it before.

5. We don't say "I told you so"

If something doesn't work out, we help you learn.

We don't tell you you should have listened.

We help you try again, or try something else.

When will DYAR say "let's think about this more"?

Sometimes we will ask more questions.

This is only when:

- Your choice might cause serious harm to YOU.
- Your choice might cause serious harm to SOMEONE ELSE.
- Your choice breaks the law.
- You are in a crisis right now and not safe.

Even then, we don't say "no" straight away.

We talk with you. We look at safer ways. We respect your voice.

The difference between "duty of care" and "dignity of risk"

We have a DUTY OF CARE.

That means we look after you.

We have a DIGNITY OF RISK.

That means we respect your choices.

We balance both.

Duty of care does NOT mean we control you.

Dignity of risk does NOT mean we leave you alone.

We walk beside you.

Your right to disagree

You can disagree with us.

You can change your mind.

You can ask for a different worker.

You can ask DYAR to write down what you want.

You can tell us if a worker is too bossy.

We will listen. We will fix it.

If you feel DYAR is not respecting your dignity of risk

Please tell us.

You can:

- Talk to your DYAR worker.
- Talk to the Director: Mehdi Dabire.
- Phone DYAR: 0470 540 306.
- Email DYAR: hello@dyar.com.au.
- Send a letter to DYAR: PO Box 8052, East Subiaco WA 6008.
- Use the Feedback form on the DYAR website.
- Speak to an advocate (see the Independent Advocacy Services page).

You can also tell:

- The NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission.
- Phone: 1800 035 544.
- Website: www.ndiscommission.gov.au

Remember

Your life. Your choice.

DYAR walks beside you, not in front of you.

You have the right to try.

You have the right to fail.

You have the right to try again.

That is dignity of risk.

This Easy Read links to our full policy: CM1 "DYAR" Duty Of Care And Dignity Of Risk "V2" 12 May 2026.

Built 20 May 2026 "DYAR Pty Ltd" Whadjuk Country.